Fund description

The Tulip Trend Fund UCITS (the "Fund") is an open-end UCITS compliant fund domiciled in Ireland. It provides access to directional trading strategies across a highly diversified global portfolio of futures and forwards. Based on quantitative analysis of price behaviour, buy and sell signals are generated in order to participate in a systematic, pre-defined and dynamic way in market movements. The underlying strategy is medium-term trend-following in nature and has historically generated strong returns in trending markets, while it has suffered during choppy and trendless periods. The fund can be long, short or neutral in every market traded.

Monthly commentary

DTP posted a negative result in July. In short, the program lost significantly more on longs U.S. dollar than it profited from shorts. However, this wasn't just a reaction in the U.S. yield rise trend. Various other factors were at play, including some Chinese recovery. This caused losses on shorts in emerging Asian currencies and equities. And it also contributed to losses on shorts in commodity-rich currencies, commodity-rich stocks and base metals. In the agricultural markets, losses on shorts in grains had a Russian signature. These losses were partly offset by profits on longs in above all cocoa. In U.S. equities, profits on longs outsize losses on shorts. The most friendly markets were the energies, where DTP profited from longs in oil & distillates as well as from shorts in European energy markets.
